

Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh

EXAMINATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

July 1933

DISEASES OF THE ALIMENTARY SYSTEM

1. Give an account of the symptoms, differential diagnosis and treatment of a case of syphilis of the stomach.
2. Discuss the part played by oral sepsis in the aetiology of alimentary lesions.
3. Describe the symptoms which would arise from obstruction in the duodenum or upper jejunum.
4. Discuss the advantages and disadvantages of milk as a food in diseases of the alimentary system.