

Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh.

EXAMINATION FOR MEMBERSHIP.

10th OCTOBER 1906.

TROPICAL MEDICINE.

1. Describe the characters of the Blood and Urine in a case of Blackwater Fever.
2. Describe the changes in the Red and White Blood Corpuscles in the different types of Malarial Fever, in Liver Abscess, and in Ankylostomiasis.
3. What are the diseases most likely to be mistaken for Liver Abscess, and how would you discriminate between them?
4. What preventive measures would you adopt in the case of Cholera breaking out—(a) in a town, (b) in barracks, (c) in a lunatic asylum, and (d) on board ship.