

Hybrid Symposium

64th St Andrew's Day Symposium: Updates on Acute Medicine

Thursday 28 - Friday 29 November 2024

Thursday 28 November

Session 1: The secrets to effective escalation

- Dialysis
- Ventilatory support
- Cardiogenic shock
- Who to transfer/how to transfer

Session 2: The future of healthcare

- Acute medicine in Bangladesh
- SIR NEIL DOUGLAS LECTURE: The future of acute medicine

Session 3: What not to miss!

- Acute visual loss
- The acutely swollen joint
- Liver function test

Session 4: Challenges on the acute medical unit

- Haematology extremes of cell count
- Functional disorders

 You can register for attendance in-person, online or on-demand

 Talks available to all delegates on-demand for 28 days post event

Friday 29 November

Session 1: The secrets to avoid admissions

- Frailty
- Dealing with newly diagnosed brain tumour patients
- Syncope

Session 2: Making sense of the current healthcare environment and future proofing

- Sustainability in healthcare focusing on acute/general medicine
- What does the data tell us about acute medicine?
- SIR JAMES CAMERON LECTURE: Moral distress – how do we manage our own reaction to the environment we work in

Session 3: Healthcare for marginalised groups

- Refugee medicine
- Hospital care for people with severe and multiple disadvantage

Session 4: Cases that changed my practice

- What happened, what I learned, how it has influenced me subsequently

*Programme subject to change

All grades of medical, nursing, scientific staff, allied health professionals and medical students are most welcome.

For further details and to book online:

events.rcpe.ac.uk

or from: Eileen Strawn, Symposium Coordinator

Email: e.strawn@rcpe.ac.uk

